Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 19 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain and strong winds in west, drier in east.

Today:
Western and northern areas cloudy, with coastal gales and rain, heavy and persistent across hills, especially later. Further east turning cloudy and breezy with a little rain or drizzle later.

Tonight:
Rain, turning heavier across hills in west, before easing for a time - but returning to the southwest later. Turning more showery in northwest.

Saturday:
Rain in southwest spreading north into Scotland and Northern Ireland, this heavy and persistent again over western upslopes with strong winds. Drier, brighter and milder in many eastern areas.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Rain across parts of England dying out Sunday, blustery showers in the northwest. Rain in the southeast Monday, mostly dry and bright elsewhere. Heavy rain spreading to western areas Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.